Mother's shock at toddler's pothole injuries

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertssexfnews.co.uk

A THREE-year-old girl was left with a black eye and bruising to her face after falling on damaged pavement in Harlow.

Jade Holman, 31, of Pittman's Field, was walking from her home to Pizza Hut with daughter Dani and son Kayne to celebrate his 14th birthday when the accident happened in The Hides close to Hugh's Tower.

Jade lost her footing when she stepped into the pothole while holding her daughter's hand. Unable to stop herself, Dani fell and hit her face on the ground.

"I went over holding her hand and she had her other hand in her pocket," said Jade. "She just fell straight to the ground. She couldn't stop crying and her face was all grazed and red."

She added: "She was traumatised. She's scared of falling over again."

Dani, who also has a six-year-old brother called Tyler, has been unable to play with her siblings for fear of knocking her bruised face. She also missed a day of nursery while the swelling went down.

Jade and husband Shaun, 34, reported the problem to Harlow Council before being told it was Essex County Council's responsibility. Jade is yet to hear from County Hall and the hole has not been filled.

She said: "I feel like everyone is passing the buck. No-one wants to deal with it, and this is the safety of a child."

She added: "You just don't expect this on the pavement. If I'd have been walking in the road I would have been looking out for them, but you don't expect to fall down a pothole on the pavement. You expect the pavement to be safe."

Just a few metres away from the pothole, a drain cover is missing. Harlow Council confirmed they had received a report of another child being injured on this hazard.

Essex County Council was approached for a comment but had not responded by the time the Star went to press yesterday.

Retired teacher found guilty of sexual assault on teenage girl

A RETIRED Harlow school teacher has been found guilty of sexually assaulting a teenage girl he was privately tutoring.

A jury at Chelmsford Crown Court took five hours to convict Paul Wilson, 67, who was accused of touching the girl's breasts and knickers during a massage he gave to her over her clothes.

Wilson, of St Leonard's Road, Nazeing, was cleared of a second charge of sexual assault by fondling the girl's knee during a car journey and a third charge of sexual activity which involved tapping her bottom with a slipper as a punishment when she made mistakes.

He had denied all three offences which were alleged to have happened between April 2011 and October 2012 when the girl was aged 14-16.

Wilson, who retired from his post as head of maths department at Stewards School in Harlow in 2004, denied that he had touched the girl as she had claimed.

He said she had exaggerated and lied and said it was "a complete mystery" why she had fabricated the allegations.

He explained that he used the slipper occasionally as a "motivational tool" after the girl's mother had given her consent.

He also said the stress-relieving massage was agreed beforehand. He admitted he might have "brushed against the very top of her bra" and that his little finger might have gone inside her the waaistband of her jeans.

However, he denied he had any sexual interest in the girl or that his actions were sexually motivated.

Wilson spent 20 years teaching at Stewards School. He also taught at the former Netteswell School in Harlow.

Sentencing was adjourned until next month.

Group wins £200 in store's green token vote

A SUPPORT group for people with Down's Syndrome has received a cash boost after winning Asda's green token vote.

Upwards With Downs was presented with a cheque for £200 on Tuesday.

Cristina Griffiths, one of the charity's founders, said: "We want to thank all the Asda shoppers for their kind donations of green tokens which allowed us to get this money.

"It will be used for activities for the younger group and for our monthly disco which was a huge success. The next one will be on March 27 so it's a great boost to us.

Rachel Forth, Asda's community champion, said: "Our green token vote is a great way of supporting community groups and charities within Harlow.

"The other two groups which were also part of the green token vote will receive £50 each."

Bus firms penalised by traffic regulator

TWO Harlow-based coach operators have had their licences revoked and two others have been fined after the services they provided failed to meet required standards.

The deputy traffic commissioner for the East of England announced this week the licence of Roadrunner Coaches Ltd, of Greenway Business Centre, had been revoked and the company fined £2,500.

Roadrunner Buses Ltd, of Greenway Business Centre, had its licence restricted for five days and was fined £3,750, while Olympus Bus and Coach Ltd, of Greenway Business Centre, was fined £4,200.

In addition, a licence held by SM Coaches Ltd, of the Burnt Mill Industrial Estate off Elizabeth Way, was revoked. Both the company and its former director, Philip Knight, were disqualified for three years after it was found the company had breached a previous order issued in 2011.

The penalties were imposed following a public inquiry held in Cambridge in December during which the deputy commissioner, Miles Dorrrington, heard evidence from the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency and Transport for London in relation to bus services run by all four operators.

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The inquiry examined whether management controls within each company were sufficient to ensure they complied with the requirements of an operator licence.

In his report, Mr Dorrrington said a DVSA traffic examiner monitored the 741 service run by Olympus Bus and Coach Ltd and reported that six vehicles were late and one failed to run. He said the company had not given a reasonable excuse for the failures.

Three services operated by Roadrunners Buses were monitored by two traffic examiners over a two-day period. Of 33 scheduled journeys, 14 failed to run, eight arrived early and six were late.

A monitoring exercise on 21 scheduled services on the 255 route operated by Roadrunner Coaches Ltd revealed that three failed to turn up, four were early and six were late. Additional checks showed all six of the observed services were late.

However, Mr Dorrrington reserved his harshest criticism for SM Coaches.

"The case of SM Coaches is a bad one," he said. "I had allowed, by the very narrowest of margins, for this operator to keep its good repute and its operator's licence after the public inquiry in 2011.

"Operator licensing relies on trust. I had given my trust to this operator and to Mr Knight after the last public inquiry but in doing so it was immediately totally undermined.

"Doing that strikes at the heart of operator licences and at the very jurisdiction of the traffic commissioners who regulate the industry."

Mr Dorrrington said the decision to revoke the company's licence will take effect from May 15.

He also said the reputation of Olympus Bus and Coach transport manager Carmelo Marino and Roadrunner Buses transport manager Stephen Stapleton had been tarnished.

The Star attempted to contact all four companies for comment but received no responses by the time we went to press.

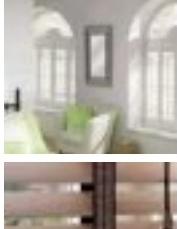

A spokesperson for Essex County Council said: "We are aware of the public inquiry and the issues raised. These companies do not provide any services on behalf of the council."

READERS LETTERS

Town is in danger of being swallowed by huge pothole

SIR, Is Harlow in danger of disappearing into a black hole? Or should I say pothole? The terrible state of the roads is not just an inconvenience but a danger to safety, causing countless punctures and wheel damage with the potential for a serious accident to occur with motorists, cyclists or pedestrians.

Motorists are already overtaxed and are being sold short. The Tory-led Essex County Council underspent £97m in 2013/2014, ironically the same amount allocated for the roads.

You would not notice the potholes after midnight as the street lights are being turned off, giving a saving of £1m per year, yet the sensors to implement the changes cost £6m.

Call me cynical but I am convinced the potholes will disappear before the general election in 2015.

Simon Vincent
Sovereign Court, Harlow

Rational argument is much better than personal insults

SIR, How refreshing to read Jean Clark's letter about council-run services in Harlow (Star, March 6).

Too often Harlow politicians of whatever persuasion discard rational argument for personal insults and accusations.

Perhaps they'll now use Cllr Clark's letter as an example when planning their own submissions to the Star.

Gwen Jones
Rundells, Harlow

New homes will destroy our established rural idyll

SIR, Brickwell Cottages is a row of 16 small semi-detached houses to the north side of West Road in Sawbridgeworth.

Built in the 1930s for farm labourers, they have an established heritage and all tenants or owners to date who have modified or extended have done so with the greatest sympathy in maintaining the architectural simplicity of the properties.

They are accessed at the front via a footpath and residents are forced to park on the north side of West Road as there is no designated parking provided for them. Some are forced to park on the boundary of the field opposite the children's play area to the west of the cottages.

The properties have large rear gardens and enjoy uninterrupted views of the rolling farm fields and woodlands to the north west of Sawbridgeworth. Now Barratt Homes have decided that they want to build on this last little field that stretches from West Road up the side and behind Brickwell Cottages.

The entrance of this new development will start at the boundary of West Road opposite the play area where residents are forced to park, and where parents have to park to allow their children to play.

The developer wants to cram in 100 three storey monstrosities similar to those erected at Scholars' Walk near Leventhorpe School. These buildings will not in any way reflect the character of the area and will wreck the quiet atmosphere of the whole neighbourhood. Our privacy

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

will be compromised and our properties will be devalued.

The additional traffic will effect the whole of West Road which is currently used as a rat run to and from High Wycombe in order to escape the congestion of the main Cambridge Road running through Sawbridgeworth.

In addition to their plans to build 100 homes behind Brickwell Cottages, the developer also want to build 300 dwellings behind Small Gains Cottages, a lovely row of old terraced and semi-detached houses to the south side of West Road. At a conservative estimate this would mean 500 more people and 600 more vehicles using West Road.

The residents of West Road know that this neighbourhood has not the capacity for the additional pedestrian and motor traffic congestion. We are already witness to the clusters of vehicles fighting their way along the route in both directions where the road is not wide enough and where residents' parked cars force the through traffic into a single file contra flow system.

Do not think that our children will be living in any of these new dwellings as the prices of these houses will be astronomical in order to satisfy the returns that are demanded by the developer. Few jobs will be generated for the people of Sawbridgeworth from these building projects because these contracts are awarded to large contractors usually from the north of England.

We cannot express our outrage enough about this preposterous development plan and we object vehemently to those who intend to destroy our established rural idyll.

Martin Betts
West Road, Sawbridgeworth

Who decided to switch off the street lights at midnight?

SIR, I totally agree with last week's contributor regarding the street lights in Harlow being turned off at midnight.

I am a single older lady who regularly takes other older friends out in the evening to shows, the cinema, dances and social events locally. Once I have taken up to four people to their respective homes and made sure they are safely in I often arrive home at midnight or just after.

It's not a pleasant thought that I have got to drive in the dark avoiding all the potholes in the roads, park up and walk to my house juggling keys, handbag and now a torch at that time of night alone.

Who made the decision for it to be midnight? If it has got to be done at all then for me personally I am would be less worrying.

I don't think I will be the only older person whose independence will be affected by this decision to darken our lives.

Why does cost of renting a garage go up every year?

SIR, About this time every year, I receive a letter from Harlow Council advising me of a garage price increase. On Friday the letter arrived for 2014 showing yet another increase.

Last year I contacted the council requesting the reasons for the increase in the cost of renting a garage. The person I spoke to stated that it was passed by the council and advised me to contact the three councillors, which I did by letter. Guess what, no reply from any of them.

I have had my garage now for over 20 years and in that time no maintenance has ever been carried out with the exception of painting the garage door 10-15 years ago.

They were built in the 1960s and therefore the council has had their investment paid for over and over again.

It would be nice for somebody from the council to tell garage owners the reasons for the rental increases every year.

Consumers' right to choose a method of communication

SIR, With figures from the Office of National Statistics revealing that 7.1m people in the UK have no access to the internet and Go-On UK estimating that 16m consumers aged over 15 do not have basic online skills, readers may be interested to know of the 'Keep Me Posted' campaign.

This campaign champions the right of consumers to choose how they are contacted by banks, utility companies, media organisations and other service providers.

This issue affects everyone but particularly the vulnerable in our society.

There's no doubt that digital communications are a useful and convenient tool for many consumers. However, research has also shown that 44 per cent of Britons believe their financial records would be incomplete without paper statements, 41 per cent worry they might miss a payment if they don't receive paper statements and 81 per cent of UK adults want to choose how they receive their information.

The 'Keep Me Posted' campaign asks organisations to offer consumers the right to choose how they receive communications without penalty.

Our country is stuck in the economics of the madhouse

SIR, Banking crash > housing crash > people can't afford to buy houses > help them borrow more > result, house prices go up 9.4 per cent > interest rates go up > people can't afford to buy houses > people can't service their housing debt > result, housing crash > result, banking crash?

One in 10 crimes is domestic violence

WEST Essex has one of the highest rates of domestic violence in the country with 10 per cent of all crime in Harlow categorised as domestic abuse, shocking new figures show.

The alarming statistics were revealed by Harlow MP Robert Halfon during a debate in Parliament to mark Domestic Violence Awareness Week.

Mr Halfon said: "I am incredibly proud of my town. I love living there and am very proud to be its MP, but we cannot sweep the problems we have under the carpet and so it is important to set out some of the problems that we face."

In June 2012, pregnant Eystna Blunnie was killed by her ex-fiance and just one month later, in July, mum-of-four Claire Parrish was murdered by her partner just hours after she told him that she wanted to end their relationship because of his domestic abuse.

Since the tragedies Essex Police and Essex County Council have taken steps forward in how they handle reports of domestic abuse including setting up a domestic abuse strategic board.

Mr Halfon said: "I am hopeful that that will prevent victims from being sucked into a cycle of abuse that is difficult to break. I also recognise that the east of England has the best conviction rate in the country for cases of domestic violence, with Essex having the second highest conviction rate of all the criminal justice areas in 2011-12."

During his speech Mr Halfon pledged his support for The Domestic Violence Disclosure Scheme - known as Clare's Law - which aims to provide information that could protect someone from being a victim of attack.

The scheme allows the police to disclose information on request about a partner's previous history of domestic violence or violent acts.

He said: "If we are to avoid tragedies such as those that happened in Harlow and prevent such things from happening again anywhere, we must not only learn lessons but act on them.

"As I have said, that means providing education in schools, investing in and focusing on areas of high deprivation and significant domestic abuse, fully implementing Clare's law, ensuring proper information sharing among services and safeguarding vulnerable people."

New powers to protect victims in the immediate aftermath of an incident of domestic violence have been introduced alongside Clare's Law.

Magistrates can grant Domestic Violence Protection Orders (DVPOs) preventing perpetrators from contacting victims for up to 28 days.

Lib Dem MP Norman Baker, minister for the Home Office, said: "Domestic violence is unquestionably a terrible crime, and I give my absolute assurance that the Government is committed to tackling it robustly."

He added: "I congratulate my hon. friend on some excellent examples of local services for victims of domestic abuse in west Essex, including the charity Safer Places, which offers accommodation and support to victims of abuse."

Author Sufiya shares her secrets with academy pupils

ESSEX Book Festival got off to a flying start in Harlow with author Sufiya Ahmed's visit to Stewards Academy.

The author hosted a visit to the Parnall Road school to talk about her first novel Secrets of the Henna Girl.

More than 80 students across Years 7, 8, 9 and 10, read the book and prepared questions in anticipation for Ms Ahmed's visit.

She spoke to the pupils about her background in the House of Commons, her struggle to become a published author and her inspiration behind the novel.

Secrets of the Henna Girl, a book based on forced marriage, follows Zeba who learns she must marry her cousin against her will.

Ms Ahmed said: "It is a topic that is always in the newspapers and I first came to write the story when I came across some women who had been through a forced marriage."

"I was inspired by their stories and that they were fighting for more protection so that official bodies like the police force and the government would be able to do more to protect them.

"I wanted it to be a story about hope; it is all about how she finds the courage to escape what has been decided for her."

Simon Ginger, reading manager at Stewards Academy, said: "In the student sessions, pupils re-enacted the wedding engagement scene from the book by dressing in authentic Muslim wedding attire and dancing in the best Bollywood tradition.

"The main event of the day was open to members of the public as well as parents and staff. There was a lively and entertaining question and answer session ranging from Sufiya's writing technique to her previous working life as a House of Commons researcher to the subject of forced marriage itself.

"Feedback from the event has been extremely positive, from both students and adults alike."

Step up fight against cancer by joining Race for Life

STEP out in the fight against cancer at this year's Race for Life event in Harlow.

Organisers of the Harlow Town Park event, in partnership with Tesco, are hoping to beat last year's fundraising total. In 2013, 2,069 women took part in the town's event and raised £135,926, this year the charity is hoping 2,100 women will join in and help raise £138,000.

The charity is hosting two distances, 5k and 10k, on Sunday, May 18.

Gill Burgess, Race for Life event manager in Essex, said: "We are urging women in Harlow to give their mums the gift of time this Mother's Day, by signing up to Race for Life together."

"The feel-good factor that comes from being part of the formidable army of women ready to show cancer who's boss will last far longer than the more traditional Mother's Day gifts of chocolates and flowers."

"Race for Life events are not competitive. They are not about being fit or fast. Some women might worry about standing alongside runners decked out in lycra but nothing could be further from the truth. The reality on the day is that participants of all shapes, sizes and ages generate an electric energy."

She added: "Mother's Day is the special occasion when we acknowledge that universal truth – it's mums who make the world go round!"

Shorter hair and hearts of gold

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO Harlow schoolfriends are sporting a new look after having their long hair cut and donating the tresses to a charity which makes wigs for children undergoing treatment for cancer.

Six-year-olds Lottie Goodship, of Millwards, and Ciara Shortall, of Millersdale, are both in Year 2 at Millwards Primary School.

Ciara's mother Caren said: "They both wanted to get their hair cut but wanted to do something to help other children. I think that's when Lottie's mum told them both about the Little Princess Trust and once they heard about it they wanted to help."

"Lottie had her hair cut first and she was very excited to have it done. Ciara had her's cut the following week.

"I'm very proud of Ciara. She loves her hair and always said she wanted to have hair like Rapunzel but she was very excited to have it cut and help make wigs for children who have lost their hair."

The girls are also fundraising for the charity. They want to raise £350 each - the cost of making a wig - and between them they have already raised over £300.

Caren added: "We're all very proud of both of them. Lottie did a big talk at the Beavers before she had it cut."

Safety scare over babies' amber teething jewellery

TRADING standards officers are warning parents about purchasing amber teething jewellery for babies after concerns were raised about their safety.

The jewellery, which is designed to be given to babies to soothe their gums when they are teething, has been found to be a potential choking and strangulation hazard.

Officers from Essex County Council's trading standards team tested products being sold over the internet by two businesses based in the county.

They are now working closely with the businesses to help them to recall the jewellery already sold.

County councillor Roger Walters, cabinet member for trading standards, said: "Parents can often be desperate to try remedies to ease their child's teething pain, especially if nothing else has worked."

"However, amber jewellery is not the answer as the suppliers have often not tested the products to check they are safe. We have given the businesses selling these products comprehensive advice to ensure they only supply safe products."

Woman who collided with concrete bollard seeks £200k payout

COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW woman who suffered a serious leg injury when she walked into a concrete bollard has launched a legal battle to win compensation from Essex County Council.

Kirstie Hawes, 35, was left stricken when she collided with a post at the mouth of a pedestrian underpass in Southern Way, Harlow, while walking home from the pub in August, 2008.

Miss Hawes, who now walks with a crutch, claims the area was badly lit and poorly constructed. As a result she is seeking more than £200,000 damages.

After reaching a financial agreement with Harlow Council - which made no admission of liability - she is now pursuing her case against the county council in the High Court.

Her barrister, Christopher Walker, told judge Robert Francis that the county council was either negligent or breached its duty of care by failing to ensure that the pathway was safe.

"My primary argument is that the lighting was inadequate," said Mr Walker. "The bollard could not be seen and was dangerous, it is as simple as that."

The court was told Miss Hawes was walking home from the pub with two companions when she slammed into the 78cm-high concrete bollard at about midnight.

Miss Hawes said there was very little light on the footway as she walked towards the underpass. She said she collapsed in a "great deal of pain" after hitting her left leg on the post.

Miss Hawes said she had only drunk two half pints of lager while at the pub, adding: "I managed to see the road and other dangers. I just did not see the bollard."

She said police officers and paramedics who came to her aid had to use torches to illuminate the area beside the underpass while she received treatment.

Mr Walker, said there was an obvious matter of dispute between Miss Hawes and the council as to how many of the tunnel's lights were working, but he insisted that either way the pathway was too dim for pedestrians to use safely.

He argued that the county council had failed to meet its statutory duty to maintain the pathway as a public highway and insisted that it negligently failed to ensure it was safe for pedestrians.

However, James Weston representing the county council, argued that Miss Hawes was "distracted" in the moments before the accident. He said she had turned to speak to one of her companions and did not slow her pace on approaching the underpass.

He argued that she was either wholly or partially responsible for her own misfortune and said there was insufficient evidence to infer that the county council actively took part in the construction of the underpass back in the 1970s, even though documents showed it had agreed to pay 15 per cent of the cost.

Mr Weston argued that the "cold forensic trail" made it impossible to tell if the county council was responsible for the bollard being put in place and therefore it had no duty to make sure it was safe.

He also said it was entirely possible that Harlow Council may have built the tunnel and was responsible for its maintenance.

The judge reserved his decision until an unspecified date.

Kim gives herself 8 weeks to reach £4k charity target

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FUNDRAISER is hoping to raise £4,000 in just eight weeks before she sets off on a charity trek.

Health therapist Kim Jarvis, 57, will be holding several events over the next few weeks in aid of Princess Alexandra Hospital's breast cancer unit, including a quiz night this Saturday.

Kim, who works in the health club at the Park Inn Hotel in Southern Way, Harlow, is also getting support from her colleagues.

Club manager Glen Armstrong and Marcel de Wijk are being sponsored to have their chests waxed on Tuesday.

Kim decided to support the unit after her mother, Silvia Thornton, was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2012.

Silvia is being treated at PAH and is doing well and Kim wanted to do something to thank the unit, which is headed up by Dr Ashraf Patel, for their support.

Dr Patel will be joining Kim and the rest of the fundraisers on the trek during which they will walk 90km over five days across the central mountains in Cuba.

DETERMINED: Kim Jarvis will be holding a charity night to boost her fundraising total for PAH's breast cancer trials unit

She said: "I really wanted to help and wanted to do something big. Originally I didn't sign up for the trek; I called up to buy tickets for another fundraiser thinking I could help by attending that event instead.

"But then I found out a few people had dropped out from the trek so they asked me to join and I did. It means I'm doing all my fundraising in a very short space of time."

Kim will be flying to Cuba on April 7.

"Some of my colleagues are sponsoring classes and those will be a little more challenging as it's for charity," she said.

"We have the quiz night coming up which should be really good and the guys are having their chests waxed so hopefully I can raise £4,000.

"It's a big target but it's a fantastic cause. Dr Patel and everyone at the unit have done such amazing things and I always try to help if I can. Everyone knows someone affected by cancer so it's great to support the unit."

Tickets for Saturday's quiz night, which will be held at the Park Inn from 7pm and includes a raffle and auction, cost £5.

To sponsor Kim visit www.justgiving.com/kim-jarvis1.

Join George for a flutter and help to raise funds for four worthy causes

A CANCER survivor is hoping his annual race night fundraiser in support of four different charities will be a big success.

George Mole, 77, of Longfields, Harlow, will be holding the event at the Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club this weekend, with proceeds going to Prostate Cancer Research, Bowel Cancer Research, St Clare Hospice and Children with Cancer.

"I have been holding the race night for eight or nine years now," said George, pictured right.

"I had bowel cancer three-and-a-half years ago and I did it then for the Princess Alexandra Hospital. My wife died of leukaemia and quite a few people in the bowls club have had prostate cancer so I'm always involved in trying to help a charity and raise some money for them.

"I don't charge for entry and the most people can lose is £6. It's a good night out."

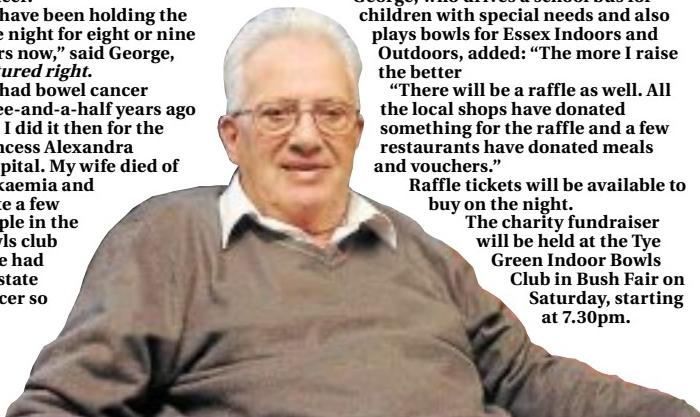

"I want to raise as much money as possible for the charities and I'll divide up what I raise between them all. Hopefully it should be a fair amount."

George, who drives a school bus for children with special needs and also plays bowls for Essex Indoors and Outdoors, added: "The more I raise the better."

"There will be a raffle as well. All the local shops have donated something for the raffle and a few restaurants have donated meals and vouchers."

Raffle tickets will be available to buy on the night.

The charity fundraiser will be held at the Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club in Bush Fair on Saturday, starting at 7.30pm.

Gordon backs a winner with race night fundraiser

A RACE night held at Roydon Village Bowls Club has raised more than £600 for children's charity Kisses4Kids.

The event was organised by veteran fundraiser Gordon Mascall, 80, of Potter Street, Harlow. He handed over the cash to his great niece and charity founder Stacey Johnson.

Kisses4Kids trustee Sara Evans said: "Gordon has been fundraising for years and has done loads for the community. "He was more than happy to do this for the charity. He knows what a help this will be to provide some happy memories for children and families who benefit from Kisses4Kids' work."

Raising the profile of young carers

A GROUP of students from Passmores Academy in Harlow have started a campaign to raise awareness of young carers.

The five students - Ellie Borrow, Shelby Bond, Chloe Creedon, Molly Smith and Z Husky - have been providing information in primary and secondary schools across the town.

They also held an event which raised £163 for Caring for Harlow Carers.

The students have met with representatives of Harlow Council with the aim of arranging several activities to spread their campaign's message further.

Harlow UAF join anti-racism day

HARLOW residents are being encouraged to show their support for the UN's anti-racism day by attending a parade in London.

Members of the Harlow United Against Fascism group will be travelling by coach to London to join the demonstration next Saturday (March 22) and have invited anyone interested in attending to join them.

A spokesman said: "The aim is to show that the majority of people wish to stand up to scapegoating and attempts to divide us. We are hoping there will be around 10,000 people there on the day."

The parade will start at 11am. Speakers on the day will include Labour MP Diane Abbott and Green Party leader Natalie Bennett.

The coach will be leaving Harlow from the town centre at 9.30am. To book a seat, email harlowuaf@gmail.com.

St Clare Hospice weekly winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, March 7 was ticket holder 737901 who lives in Bishop's Stortford.

The second prize of £100 was won by the holder of ticket number 147186, who lives in Waltham Abbey.

Council flies the flag for Commonwealth Day

HARLOW Council held a flag-raising ceremony outside the Civic Centre on Monday morning to mark Commonwealth Day.

Council chair Linda Pailing, vice-chair Ian Beckett and Harlow MP Robert Halfon were joined by councillors Edna Stevens, Tony Hall and Muriel Jolles as well as council staff for the ceremony.

More than 500 organisations and community groups around the UK held similar ceremonies, making it the largest single raising of the flag in the history of the Commonwealth.

Cllr Pailing read out a message from the Queen before reciting the Commonwealth Affirmation as the flag was raised.

County has 'no plan' to close care centre

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A RESPITE care centre in Harlow which provides short breaks for disabled children and young people will remain open . . . at least until any alternative service is in place.

Following a six-week consultation on proposals to develop and improve the provision of overnight short breaks for disabled young people in the county, Essex County Council has confirmed that both The Maples in Hodings Road and Lavender House in Colchester will remain open unless and until alternative provision that meets the needs of children currently using the services are in place.

The proposals looked at how the overnight service could be developed and improved by making the range of options to families more local.

More than 450 consultation responses were received, as well as two online petitions.

County Hall has said it will take into consideration all responses to the consultation as it begins a programme to develop more local overnight short break provision including having a focus on recruiting specialist foster carers for disabled children and encouraging providers of small residential units into the county.

The work is expected to take at least a year to complete.

Parent Dee McCullough, 32, of Woodcroft, takes her daughter to The Maples. She said: "I nor any of the parents had any contact from Essex County Council about this, which is ridiculous but after reading the Star's story online there is nothing new in this announcement. It is a whitewash really.

"Every single person I have spoken to about this has said we will fight it to the end."

County councillor Dick Madden, cabinet member for families and children, said: "What we want to provide is a menu of options for families to choose from, options that are right for them and their child."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who has backed supporters of The Maples, started a petition to help secure the future of the centre earlier this year.

He said: "I have done a huge campaign on The Maples, but actually the real heroes are the parents who have mounted an incredible campaign. They have done it in a really sensible and rational way and presented county council with a logical case."

"County council have woken up and I am proud to be associated with the parents of The Maples."

"I am very glad and very happy that councillor Madden has agreed to look into this properly."

14 in court after drugs raids

A TOTAL of 14 people have appeared in court on drugs-related charges following police raids on a number of houses in Harlow last week.

Officers executed search warrants at 31 residential properties under the Misuse of Drugs Act.

The dawn raids on Tuesday resulted in 20 arrests and the recovery of large quantities of cocaine and heroin.

The following day 14 people appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates Court. They were released on bail until various dates in March, April and June.

Six other people from Harlow are currently on police bail pending further enquiries into suspected drug offences.

Neighbourhood policing officers continue to urge Harlow residents to call them on 101 about any suspicious activity in their area.

Labour hopeful launches aspirations campaign

STUDENTS from two schools in Harlow were asked for their views on young people's expectations when Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride invited shadow minister for childcare and children Lucy Powell to visit the town for the launch of her aspirations campaign.

Youngsters from Burnt Mill Academy and Passmores Academy were encouraged to speak about their expectations and experiences as well as share ideas on how to help achieve their potential.

Ms Stride and Ms Powell also met Burnt Mill headteacher Helena Mills, Passmores principal Vic Goddard and Harlow College principal Karen Spencer.

"It was great to meet with incredibly gifted students from across Harlow to hear their solutions to how we can raise aspirations," said Ms Stride. "This campaign is about bringing change to young people's lives now and helping them walk into the futures they deserve."

She added she would be exploring suggestions put forward during the meetings, including partnering employers with secondary schools, early career guidance and worthwhile work experience.

Ms Powell added: "It was great to visit two outstanding schools and talk to pupils about how they can fulfil their hopes and dreams. Suzy's aspiration campaign will help lift young people's horizons, improving futures and celebrating success."

MP sparks row with UKIP over 'Nazi' comment

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE UK Independence Party will be holding a "day of action" in Harlow later this month in response to comments made by the town's Conservative MP Robert Halfon in which he compared the views of some members as "akin to the Nazis".

In an interview with The House magazine, Mr Halfon said UKIP had done the Conservatives an enormous favour by "cleansing" the Tories of members with views it finds distasteful.

Mr Halfon said some in UKIP had "abhorrent and frightening" opinions, citing as an example one Euro MP who called for Muslims to sign a declaration of non-violence which he said was "akin to the Nazis saying Jews should wear a yellow star".

Mr Halfon added: "To me there are two kinds of UKIP - the Godfrey Bloom guy who's like a cross between Sid James and Bernard Manning, and then there's a much more sinister element, like the MEP who said every Muslim has got to sign a declaration of non-violence."

"I genuinely find it abhorrent and frightening. I'm amazed that man is still an MEP; how can someone say such a thing and then not apologise for it?"

"In many ways UKIP have done us an enormous favour because they're cleansing people from the Tory party that had these kinds of views, which is great because I don't want people who have those kinds of views in my party."

ROBERT HALFON

Later Mr Halfon told the Star: "I am not some kind of soft lily-livered person on the issue of Europe and immigration but I want to live in a country where we are kind and tolerant.

"We are always going to get renegade councillors and MPs in every party, including my own, but when a leader of a political party says he was on a train and felt uncomfortable and awkward at hearing foreign voices then it's worrying."

He added: "Harlow is changing, it is not a racist place and we have a very diverse community here. So though I may get it in the neck, we have to stand up for things that we believe in."

"We have to be tough on people that abuse the system. People should not get benefits and health until they contribute to the system but we have got to be kind and tolerant of others. We can not allow things like this to happen."

"As the saying goes, all that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."

UKIP leader Nigel Farage dismissed Mr Halfon's comments as "hysterical slurs" and said the party would be holding a day of action in Harlow.

"Let the voters of Harlow hear what we have got to say," he said. "I know that many of them are already flocking to our side."

"As we approach the next general election we will also consider whether to add Harlow to our target seat list given the positive response of people in the town to our message."

A UKIP spokesman said the day of action would take place on Saturday, March 29, adding: "We will be trying to get out there into the community and share as much literature as we can with Harlow residents."

BUSINESS NEWS*Budget food store starts staff search

GERMAN retailer Aldi is looking for staff for its Harlow store.

The supermarket which is currently being built at The Stow, is expected to open at the end of July.

In the past two years Aldi's east and south east region has grown from 56 stores to 65 at the end of 2013.

The company is scheduled to open several new stores over the next year and Aldi are embarking on a recruitment drive to hire management staff to support its expanding portfolio of businesses.

James Hutcheson, Aldi's head of recruitment, said they had begun the process of looking for additional staff.

He said: "Aldi's strong growth and expanding portfolio across this region has created an immediate requirement for additional management staff within the majority of our existing and forthcoming new stores."

"We're looking to attract candidates from a wide range of retail backgrounds, including supermarket, fast-food and clothing chains, who can demonstrate relevant retail management experience, and the ability to motivate a team in a fast-paced environment."

NWES helping to deliver growth scheme aimed at small businesses

Quality frozen goods at 'ice' prices

ICE TO SEE YOU: David Beverley, left, and Paul Bearfield

WARMER weather may soon be on the way but one new business is pinning its hopes for success on sub-zero temperatures.

Ice Bites opened in The Street, Sheering in December and is now looking to build on a successful festive period.

David Beverley, 34, and business partner Paul Bearfield, 54, said good quality frozen food at low prices is the reason why customers keep returning.

"My background is in event catering," said David, "so I know where to go to get the quality food at a better rate."

"Ice Bites used to be a wholesale retailer but we are now available to anybody and stock a huge range of products."

He added: "It's all high-quality food and we have had a lot of returning customers which is good. We're open six days a week; we're closed on Monday so that we can go and get fresh products for customers."

For more information, call Ice Bites on (01279) 734804.

A HARLOW-based enterprise agency which specialises in helping people turn their business dreams into reality is taking part in a Government scheme supporting small companies.

NWES, which operates the Harlow Enterprise Hub in Edinburgh Way and focuses on supporting economic growth within the communities it serves, is working in partnership with the Department of Business Innovation and Skills and Enterprise Nation to deliver the Growth Vouchers programme.

The aim of the £30m scheme is to help small businesses find the advice and support they need to achieve their growth potential.

NWES is the region's leading enterprise agency and is part of the Cavendish Consortium. It has won several awards for its work and in 2012 was named Local Enterprise Agency of the Year at the National Enterprise Awards.

It was also one of the sponsors of last year's Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards.

Under the Growth Vouchers scheme small businesses will receive free advice to help them assess their needs. Most participants will be offered match funding of up to £2,000 to access strategic advice through the Enterprise Nation online marketplace and accredited private suppliers.

Advice can fall into various categories including finance and cash flow, staff, leadership, marketing and digital technology.

Kevin Horne, chief executive of NWES and chairman of the Cavendish Consortium, said: "With more than 30 years' experience of delivering excellence in enterprise support to small businesses and business start-ups, the NWES team is looking forward to offering the guidance business owners need to make the most of the opportunity offered by the Growth Vouchers scheme to take their businesses towards greater success."

Enterprise and skills minister Matthew Hancock added: "Access to high-quality business advice at the right time can make the difference for small business owners."

Growth Vouchers will allow us to find out scientifically what advice small businesses value and to shape government advice in the future according to business need."

Out with the old and in with the new as shop celebrates refurb with goody bag giveaway

A CLOTHES retailer marked its New Look by giving goody bags to its customers.

New Look gave the bags to its first 100 shoppers when it unveiled its makeover last month. Discounts were also available for customers on the day and shoppers were given a free gel manicure from Harlow nail artist salon Avant Garde, who are also based in the town.

Deputy manager Hannah Reid said: "We have had a great reaction from all customers who have been amazed by the transformation and a DJ played the perfect tracks in the shop."

"There was a great buzz in store all weekend and everyone seems to love our new look. It seems to be a great success."

A New Look spokeswoman said the store will offer customers the "best shopping experience".

"At New Look we know it's not just about a new dress, it's about the upcoming party, the catch-up with friends and the excitement that comes with it which is why we've given our Harlow store a makeover - to treat our customers not only to the latest fashions but the best shopping experience," she said.

"New Look is already known as the go-to destination for affordable and on-trend fashion, we've worked hard to give our stores a bit of a refresh to make sure they're a fun and friendly place to be."

"Basically making our stores more like us. We want to be every fashion-lover's shop of choice, their first stop for aspirational fashion and all those wardrobe essentials."

Milwards in final of schools competition

PUPILS and staff at a Harlow school are keeping their fingers crossed after reaching the finals of a national competition.

Milwards Primary, in Paragon Road, is one of 12 schools in the final of The School We'd Like competition run by the Guardian Teacher Network and Zurich Municipal.

Entries were received from more than 300 primary and secondary schools across the UK. The winner will be announced at the grand final which takes place in London next Saturday (March 22).

The competition invited pupils to come up with an idea that could change their school for the better and possibly win £5,000 to turn their ideas into reality.

Three of Milwards Year 5 pupils - Madison Stevens, Kai Jordan and Kien O'Mahony, pictured right - went to London for the regional finals where they presented their idea of the perfect school.

Lauren Earl, Year 5 class teacher at Milwards, said: "I have never seen the pupils so passionate about something. They have their heart completely set on winning an art studio/observatory for the school.

"After working so hard on their presentations and researching their idea they are absolutely thrilled to have got through to the finals. None of us can still quite believe it, it feels a bit like a dream.

"We are sure that they will do us proud in the finals and are keeping our fingers crossed that we win."

Car wash crews clean up at charity fundraiser

SLIDESHOW: www.harlowstar.co.uk

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow were joined by Essex Air Ambulance crew members and volunteers for a charity car wash at the Fourth Avenue station on Saturday.

The teams washed cars to raise funds for the Firefighters Charity and the air ambulance.

By the end of the day their efforts were rewarded with a total of £686, which will be split equally between the two charities.

Fire station watch manager Steve Joyce said: "It went really well. The air ambulance crew sent along a doctor, paramedics and some volunteers and there were 12 fire officers as well as crew members and volunteers helping out on the day.

"The weather was on our side and we had a lot of support from the Harlow public. Our chosen charities also seemed extremely popular and it was great to have that much support."

He added: "We want to thank everyone who helped with the car wash and, of course, the members of the public who supported us. We had a really good stream of people; it was a great day."

Harlow Advice Centre

Understanding the new rules for benefit appeals

MOST decisions made by the Department for Work and Pensions, HMRC (tax credits, child benefit and guardians allowance) and local authority housing benefit departments carry appeal rights.

New appeal rules and procedures were introduced on October 28, 2013 and relate to all benefits administered by the Department for Work and Pensions.

The rules do not apply to housing benefit but it is understood that they will apply to HMRC benefits from April 2014.

The new rules may be confusing for many claimants. It is best to get specialist advice from an agency such as Harlow Advice Centre wherever possible.

The new rules make it necessary to request a reconsideration of a decision before lodging an appeal. Only when a new, reconsidered decision is issued is it possible to lodge an appeal.

Requests for a reconsideration should be made within one month of the date of the original decision and should state why you think the decision is wrong and include evidence if you have it.

A decision maker may contact you to discuss the disputed decision and to ask for further evidence if necessary.

A new, reconsidered decision will be issued and, if you are still unhappy, you can lodge an appeal. Reconsideration requests are made directly to the Department for Work and Pensions. There is no prescribed form or a need to make the request in writing but it is advisable to do so.

Appeals are lodged directly with HM Courts and Tribunal Service. HM Court Service has produced form SSCS1-How to appeal against a decision made by the Department for Work and Pensions. Completed forms should be sent to HMCTS SSCS Appeals Centre, PO Box 1203, Bradford, BD1 9WP.

Again, you should state why you disagree with the decision and include further evidence if you have it. You also need to include a copy of the reconsidered decision.

The impact of the change is that Employment Support Allowance, where ESA would normally be payable during the appeal process, will not now be payable during the reconsideration stage. Instead, people will need to claim Job Seekers Allowance or in some cases other benefits until they can lodge an appeal.

Harlow Advice Centre is based on the first floor of Harlow Central Library in The High. Telephone (01279) 704002 or email admin@harlowac.org.uk. Opening hours are Monday noon-2pm, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 10am-2pm. Out of hours appointments are available if necessary.

Looking cool in a penguin jumper

MEMBERS of a wildlife group in Australia are calling for knitters to help little penguins in rehabilitation get better by making woollen jumpers for them.

The Penguin Foundation said the jumpers are for penguins caught in oil spills because they help to keep them warm and prevent them from trying to clean off the harmful oil with their beaks.

Avid knitter Lyn Blom is a receptionist at the Phillip Island Nature Parks in the Australian state of Victoria where The Penguin Foundation is based and where there is a colony of almost 500 penguins.

Speaking to television news reporters, she said: "If somebody spills oil in the sea a little penguin swimming along pops up to the surface and finds out he's come up in a circle of yukky stuff. The first thing he wants to do is get to shore because he loses all of his waterproofness."

She said penguins become very cold and waterlogged when sea water seeps towards their skin.

As well as preventing penguins from trying to clean off the oil, the jumpers keep them warm until they can be released back into the wild.

Swimming stars open pool's aquatubes

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MANY Harlow residents will remember spending time with family or friends at the swimming pool in First Avenue.

Homes now stand on the site of the pool. And it was 28 years ago this month that the pool's distinctive aquatubes were officially opened by swimming superstars Sharron Davies and David Wilkie.

The news made local and national headlines.

Both Sharon, an Olympic silver medallist and a double Commonwealth Games gold champion, and David, who was Olympic and Commonwealth Games champion in the 1970s, signed autographs and posed for pictures with fans after riding the tubes and hosting a swimming demonstration in the main pool.

The photograph shows the swimming stars with some of their fans at the opening of the aquatubes.

When the tubes were first opened by Harlow Council, the authority claimed they were 'the fastest, most exciting ride in Europe - with speeds up to 25mph' according to the council's paper Harlow News, copies of which were bought in by regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill.

The second photograph, inset, shows lollipop lady Lynn Dennis, who in July 1986 was the 50,000th person to ride the aquatubes.

The Nazeing resident visited the swimming pool with sons James, Richard, David and Barry as well as friend Liz Goodwin and was the lucky swimmer to buy ticket number 50,000.

The aquatubes were the first built by a local authority and were expected to attract around 160,000 users in the first year.

However, the attraction exceeded all expectations when figures released in April 1986 - a month after the tubes were opened - showed that the facility had already managed to attract 20,000 visitors.

Volunteers who formed town's 'Dad's Army'

HARLOW was one of many towns with its very own 'Dad's Army' - the local defence volunteers of the First World War.

The group reformed in the Second World War but were renamed the Home Guard.

The photograph, which was published in the Harlow Citizen, shows Harlow's LDV with a machine gun.

THE GREAT WAR 1914-18*THE Star REMEMBERS

A YOUNG dancer who trains in Harlow has appeared alongside a host of famous faces in the video for Little Mix's official Sport Relief single.

The feisty pop foursome have covered Cameo's 1986 soul-funk track Word Up, which is due for release on March 16.

The video sees band members Perrie Edwards, Jesy Nelson, Leigh-Anne Pinnock and Jade Thirlwall descend upon the Sport Relief gym and rock-out.

Celebrities including Radio 1 DJ Nick Grimshaw, cycling hero Victoria Pendleton, former Strictly Come Dancing judge Arlene Phillips and Spice Girl Mel C are among those who appear in the video.

Also featuring is Harlow-based dancer and choreographer Kevin Adams, best known for his appearance on BBC talent show Fame Academy.

Kevin now runs a performing arts academy and when he was asked to take part in the video he agreed if one of his students could join in too.

He chose 14-year-old Francesca

Norton who is currently training hard to win a place at one of the elite performing arts colleges in London.

"It has been a long, long time since I was last in a video," said Kevin. "The last video I did was Victoria Beckham's Out Of Your Mind, and that was over 10 years ago.

"They asked if I would be in it and I said yes as long as I could have one of my students in it with me."

He continued: "It was nice that Francesca got to sit down and talk to Arlene about focus, technique and being an all-rounder able to be competent in all styles of dance."

Francesca said: "Being on a video shoot and all the things that go with it was nothing like I imagined. It was a great experience and has made me even more determined to succeed as a dancer. "Meeting sporting stars and celebrities who work hard to achieve and maintain their high standards is also something that will stay with me. And I got to meet a Spice Girl!"

Sport Relief is a biennial charity event from Comic Relief and this year's event will be held on Friday March 21-23.

The Guide

IF the recent rain means your luscious, closely-cropped carpet of green is now nothing but a soggy bog, you might be feeling a bit downhearted.

But don't despair, say the experts, there is still hope for your languishing lawn.

Guy Jenkins, Johnsons lawn seed expert, firstly advises to just give it time.

"Don't rush to work on your lawn as soon as the water has subsided," he says. "Treading on wet, saturated soil will easily result in compaction, reducing your lawn's aeration and drainage even further. Only sow seed after the ground has become workable again."

Sometimes though, the only real option is to start again; if your lawn suffers from consistent waterlogging, or is covered in moss or has bare, muddy patches. Jenkins says sorting out a proper drainage system and sowing trusted grass seed will save you time and money later. On a poorly drained site where water lies on the surface at times, land drains are the only solution. If in doubt, seek professional advice.

When water simply won't drain away, the RHS advises that you may have to replace the lawn with a new one, using turf laid on a 5cm (2in) bed of sharp sand, overlaid with topsoil improved by generous manuring and thorough cultivation.

Taking care of your lawn

By Hannah Stephenson

Smaller lawns on heavy clay soil can frequently be drained by raising them slightly above the adjoining ground level. A gravel edging to the lawn will carry away excess moisture.

When a lawn lies wet for any length of time, damp conditions encourage algae, lichens and liverworts. This includes bubble-like Nostoc algae and dog lichen. They both flourish in badly-drained lawns but can develop wherever the aeration is poor and may even appear on well-drained turf if the surface has become compacted and is inclined to remain damp after rain.

Algae also thrives in shaded conditions and where soil fertility is poor, so it's frequently found on turf beneath trees. Moss is a common sight where conditions are damp, but particularly if there is shade and an acid soil.

Pricking or slitting the surface can improve a waterlogged lawn, the RHS adds. Try making 2-3cm (1in) slits or holes, although deeper spiking is better, especially with a tool designed to leave holes 10-15cm (4-6in) deep. These holes can be filled with a free-draining material, such as proprietary lawn top dressings or horticultural sand, which will allow the water to flow from the surface to deeper, less compacted layers.

Hand spiking tools are available but an ordinary garden fork can be used too. Alternatively, for larger lawns, use powered tools. Try a hollow tiner, which has hollow spikes and removes plugs of soil that are then swept up and removed. Pricking and slitting are best carried out once the excess water has drained away, especially where machinery is to be used. In small areas where standing water persists, sweep it off the lawn and into the beds before spiking with a hand spiking tool or garden fork.

Once you've cleared the latest mess, it is also important to consider the root of the problem and hopefully prevent it happening again. For example, do you live in an urban area, at the bottom of a valley or flood plain, or on top of heavy clay?

"All of these factors can affect how your lawn copes with excess rainfall," says Jenkins. "In urban areas, water flows over pavements and patios, with the extra surface run-off resulting in flooding.

"Simply by keeping a well-maintained lawn, providing somewhere for water to drain away, we can all do our bit to prevent flood damage."

If you plan to sow a new lawn this spring, raking soil over to form a fairly fine tilth should ensure optimum germination rates, but only do it when the soil is dry enough to work.

Heavy rain washes nutrients out of the soil, so to help encourage new grass, apply a lawn fertiliser or buy grass seed which includes fertiliser or dressing, so that it can grow more extensive root systems better able to withstand drought and flooding.

Belt up for road race thrills and spills

NEED FOR SPEED
certificate 12A, 2h10m

INSPIRED by a series of video games in which players get behind the wheel of souped-up motors, Need For Speed accelerates smoothly into the slipstream of The Fast And The Furious and its high-octane pretenders.

Director Scott Waugh puts the pedal to the metal from the turbo-charged opening which establishes a rivalry between the cash-strapped protagonist (Aaron Paul, pictured right) and his cocksure rival (Dominic Cooper) that drives the narrative to its predictably tragic resolution.

The story centres on car mechanic Tobey Marshall (Paul), who runs his father's garage but is struggling to make ends meet so he relies on prize money from illegal street races.

Aided by his team comprising Benny (Kid Cudi), Joe (Ramon Rodriguez), Finn (Rami Malek) and Little Pete (Harrison Gilbertson), Tobey is king of the road until a race against Dino Brewster

Tobey is arrested and sentenced to time behind bars for a crime he did not commit while Dino walks away unashamed by suspicion.

Two years later Tobey is released and swears revenge against Dino by competing against his nemesis in a legendary race organised by the enigmatic Monarch (Michael Keaton).

He borrows a turbo-charged vehicle and agrees to take car dealer Julia Madden (Imogen Poots) in the passenger seat as insurance. Sparks of sexual attraction fly between Tobey and Julia, complicating his relationship with old flame Anita (Dakota Johnson).

Need For Speed is neither as deliriously fast nor furious as the films it hopes to emulate.

Director Waugh choreographs some slick set pieces including pursuits around city streets and a daredevil airborne escape but there are few surprises in George Gatins's simplistic and linear script.

Paul attempts to jumpstart his big screen career off the back of the TV series Breaking Bad and he is extremely likable in a woefully malnourished role. His deep, growling voice cuts through the squealing brakes and crashes of passing motorists, who are in the wrong place at the wrong time.

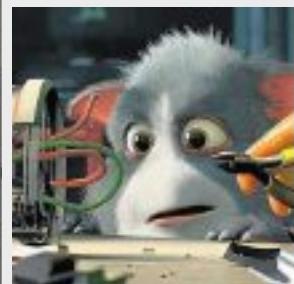

Cooper is far less impressive as the slippery antagonist, whose greed, recklessness and overinflated ego bring about his downfall. He is insipid and not remotely menacing.

British rising star Imogen Poots continues her ascent with a spirited and eye-catching supporting performance as a ballsy car broker, who proves she's much more than a pretty face.

SHINGLE Cottage is a charming cottage with plenty of character in the village of Allens Green west of Sawbridgeworth.

It is in a central position within the village and has been improved by the current owners who have added modern fittings throughout.

However, the original character is still very much in evidence in the form of exposed brickwork, high ceilings and large sash windows.

From the entrance hall there is a large lounge/diner and study area. Wood flooring, double glazed sash windows, exposed beams and a modern feature fireplace all contribute to this room's charm.

The kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with an electric oven, hob, fridge and dishwasher. There is space for a freezer with additional capacity for a washing machine and second freezer in the utility room leading off the kitchen.

There is also a ground floor cloakroom which has been refitted with a quality white suite.

On the first floor are three bedrooms and the family bathroom which has been refitted with a white suite and includes a whirlpool bath complete with mood lighting.

There is a garden at the side of the house which is mostly laid to lawn with established trees and hedging, providing provide a good degree of privacy. There is off-road parking for numerous vehicles to the front of the house.

Mackay Property Agents have full details on (01279) 600567.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motorreg

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website.

Payment per vehicle negotiable.

It's third time lucky as Rovers Return with cup

Grove & Hove ..... 0
Rovers Return ..... 4
(Harlow & District Sunday Football League, Division Four Cup final)

IT might have surprised some that a cup final was able to be played at a fairly early stage of this season, considering the incredible backlog of matches caused by this wet, miserable winter.

But that was the case as Rovers Return took on Grove & Hove in the Division Four Cup final in the Harlow & District Sunday League at The Harlow Arena, home of Harlow Town FC.

Rovers Return took the honours with a comfortable 4-0 win.

Having previously lost in two final appearances they were focused on making it third time lucky and finally came up trumps.

The wind played havoc for both teams and in the early exchanges it was Grove & Hove who created some of the more clear-cut openings, but without being able to make the breakthrough.

The deadlock was finally broken when Rovers Return scored seven minutes before the break.

Joe Wilson burst into the box and beat the Grove & Hove keeper Ben Felton.

With half-time approaching Rovers Return doubled their lead when Felton couldn't hold onto a free-kick with the wind moving it around and man of the match Craig Lavery knocked home the rebound from a few yards out.

The game was over on 55 minutes

THIRD TIME LUCKY: Rovers Return lift the Division Four Cup after their success in the final at The Harlow Arena fourth goal on 78 minutes.

Joe Wilson soon had a chance to secure a cup final hat-trick when Rovers Return were awarded a penalty after a hand ball in the box, but his penalty was superbly saved by Felton.

When the whistle blew, there were scenes of delight as Rovers Return had finally put to bed the disappointment of their two previous finals to run out 4-0 winners.

Player/manager Chris Bell said: "Our first trophy playing together after two previous attempts so it meant a lot to us. We celebrated accordingly as you can imagine! It was by no means a formality like some might have thought from our league position. Grove and Hove put us under real pressure from the start and if we had conceded in the early stages it might have been a different story. It's a real testament to the quality of division four this season."

Rovers can now set their sights on a league and cup double.

They are 11 points clear at the top of division four, although second-placed New Town Rangers have two games in hand.

when Joe Wilson's persistence led to him stealing the ball off a defender. He raced into the box and smashed home for 3-0.

With the rain hammering down both teams pushed on.

This led to space opening up and Matt Leadbeater knocked home the

Physio helps player who suffers dislocated shoulder

HAWKS physio and assistant boss Paul West-Hook was called upon to click centre-half Josh Urquhart's dislocated shoulder back into place during the disappointing 1-0 defeat away to Waltham Forest on Saturday.

Bang on half-time Urquhart landed awkwardly after an aerial challenge.

It was clear he had dislocated his shoulder, but great work from West-Hook managed to click it back into place. As a precaution Shaun Curley replaced Urquhart for the second half.

Waltham Forest ..... 1
Harlow Tn ..... 0
 (Ryan League, division one north)

At that stage Harlow Town were already 1-0 down, after a spirited Waltham Forest side on Saturday.

Waltham Forest took the lead on 33 minutes through Pascal-Johnson.

Junior Dadson and Alex Read went close with headers for the visitors.

Luke McGee produced two outstanding saves to keep the Hawks in the game, one being a full stretch tip round a post.

The second half was dominated by Harlow but the final ball was missing on more than one occasion.

The hosts defended really well and frustrated the Harlow forwards.

Forest tried to hit Harlow on the break as the Hawks pushed for an equaliser, and hit the outside of a post from a free-kick.

Harlow's best chance fell to substitute Chinedu McKenzie, but his half volley flew just over the bar. Skipper Darren Blewitt had an effort in the box but his shot skipped past a post.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman fumed: "They knew they let themselves down. We're playing catch up now. Saturday was disappointing from a result and performance point of view."

HARLOW TN: McGee, Barnard, Eadie, Urquhart (Curley), Blewitt, Glowacki, Dadson, Muguo, Read, Smith, Stamp. Sub used: McKenzie.

Naomi's England joy at silver medal

NAOMI Harryman secured a fantastic silver medal in the pentathlon at the England Athletics Indoor Age Group Championships – and was just 14 points away from the gold medallist.

Competing at Sheffield on Saturday, the Harlow Athletic Club member lined up against the very best pentathletes in the UK in the U-17 age group, as this championship incorporated the Welsh and Northern Irish championships too.

The 15-year-old stretched her club record points total to 3,469 points, finishing just short of winner Annabelle Pask (Coventry Godiva). She was almost 200 points ahead of the bronze medallist, Jennae Ward (Sale Harriers).

Naomi was lying in second place after a fantastic 60metres hurdles, in which she clocked 9.15 seconds.

She then went on to win the high jump with a massive jump of 1.65m, meaning she led after two events.

The shot put, her weakest event largely due to her smaller stature in relation to rival competitors, was next.

She still managed to throw a decent distance of 8.19m, and now narrowly held on to second place.

This was followed by a brilliant personal best in the long jump of 5.52m.

This left her just 41 points behind the leader going into the stamina-sapping 800m.

She won this race by five seconds in a personal best time of 2 minutes 31.29s, bringing the whole stadium to their feet, but it wasn't quite enough to overhaul the leader.

Naomi said: "I was so close to being champion so I was a bit disappointed. I was pleased with my overall performance as I gave it everything. Next time I will win!"

Harlow AC coach Steve Lott added: "It's worth just putting a little bit of context to what Naomi has achieved.

TOP PERFORMANCE: Naomi Harryman with her silver medal at Sheffield in the England Indoor Championships (S)

All top 10 finishers achieved personal bests and 26 of the 28 competitors achieved overall best results. In effect, this has been the highest calibre of competition for this event ever. She can be very proud indeed."

Alongside Andrew Osagie's achievements at the World Indoor Athletics Championships in Poland, where he gained a bronze, it completed a memorable weekend for Harlow Athletic Club.

Volleyball team close in on Essex title

HARLOW Volleyball Club's men's team went back to the top of their Essex League table after a resounding three sets to zero triumph over Southend.

The team bounced back from losing to Brentwood 3-1.

Harlow have three games left and will win the title if they are victorious in all three, a fantastic achievement for a club only registered three years ago.

The men's team is also in the quarter-finals of the Essex Rucanor Cup, where they will face Tendring Heatec next.

"I am happy to see that the men's team is improving and playing better and showing real class in most of the matches," said Harlow Volleyball Club head coach Ilia Kalanov.

The Harlow women's team lost 3-0 at home to Suffolk Three.

Capital punishment for Harlow Ladies

HARLOW Ladies seconds scored a goal after only 23 SECONDS but went down 7-1 to East London fourths in the Essex Women's Hockey League.

Great link-up play from the midfield allowed Stephanie Hawes to score an excellent goal.

Harlow forwards Tracey Taylor, Tanisha Naidoo and Claire Burgess pushed on against East London but just couldn't find the net as the visitors led 3-1 at the break.

Nicole Donaghey hit a post after making a lightning run from defence.

There were some brilliant saves from Harlow keeper Sandra Figg but East London got another four goals to cruise home.

Player of the match for Harlow went to Nina Johnson-Marshall.

HARLOW: S. Figg, O. Figg, A. Figg, Care, Burgess, Johnson-Marshall, S. Donaghey, N. Donaghey, Hawes, Horrax, Naidoo, Taylor.

Side's promotion hopes are hit for six

THE promotion hopes of Harlow in division six south east of the East Men's Hockey League were knocked by a comprehensive mauling from runaway leaders Old Southendians.

The 6-0 away loss was Harlow's heaviest defeat of the season.

Missing a few key players like the influential Luke Krkoska in midfield and Keith Johnson (who unfortunately pulled up injured during his warm-up) in defence, Harlow struggled to keep their defensive discipline and with no communication conceded a goal early on.

With this, the visitors' heads dropped and Southend took full advantage to score a further five goals.

The closest Harlow came to any consolation goal was when Rhys Mace played a pass from defence to Benn Hagger, who ran past several defenders and the goalkeeper, only to fire wide with the goal gaping.

Harlow are fourth, level on points with third-placed Wapping VII.

HARLOW (squad): Fuller, Cox, N. Boughtwood, Castillo, Gorringe, Chandler, Adams, Hagger, Mace, R. Boughtwood, Johnson, Gould.

Rams fail top test as Campion cut and run

TITLE favourites Campion put the Rams to the sword as they secured a 36-12 victory at Ram Gorse on Saturday in London division three north east.

Harlow were let down by poor tackling against the leaders, who are now seven points clear.

Having lost possession early on, the hosts were hit by a swift break and, after two missed tackles, conceded an easy unconverted try in the corner.

Minutes later, Rams full-back Rob Mackie used his pace to break through for an unconverted try, levelling the score at 5-5.

For the next 10 minutes Harlow put the visitors under a lot of pressure and twice came close to scoring, but then when Campion countered the defence went AWOL as the table-toppers scored a try very similar to their first.

The Rams wasted a penalty and then in the final six minutes of the half Campion ran in two tries, one of which was converted, as the visitors led 22-5 at the turn around.

The second half started badly with Harlow conceding another converted try in the first five minutes of the half.

Despite playing up the slope they performed better and had a reasonable share of the possession.

On 62 minutes however they conceded another converted try and were 36-5 down.

Keeper in Spurs return

LUKE McGEE has been recalled by Spurs from his loan at Harlow Town due to a goalkeeper shortage at White Hart Lane.

The Hawks, who are set to sign a midfielder from a Ryman division one north club and a centre-half from a Calor Southern division one central team tomorrow (Friday), are waiting to hear whether McGee will be recalled permanently.

Harlow have had huge problems with retaining goalkeepers this term but the arrival of 18-year-old Spurs U-21 stopper McGee looked to have ended this situation. "I have been over the moon with Luke," said Hawks boss Danny Chapman. "But that's the down side to loans."

If Harlow complete the signing of an experienced midfielder and centre-half tomorrow they are unlikely to play at home to AFC Sudbury this Saturday, but could be in the squad for next Thursday's trip to Tilbury in another division one north match. "We need cover in case Josh [Urquhart] or Darren [Blewitt] get injured."

Winning title now a big ask confesses Hawks manager

HARLOW Town boss Danny Chapman fears the Ryman division one north title race could be over – but has vowed his Hawks will not give up until the very last kick.

The Hawks made it one point from nine as they stretched their winless run to three games with a goalless draw at AFC Sudbury on Tuesday.

Harlow remain in third spot but are now 12 points adrift of leaders VCD, who have a game in hand on the Essex club.

"It's going to be difficult to catch them now. We will have to win all our games. We are 12 points behind VCD now. We need to keep believing in what we are doing," said Chapman.

"There will be lots more twists and turns to come. There's only 12 games left now, but a lot of these teams have to play Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays. You never know what's going to happen."

Harlow came closest to scoring in the 35th minute when a Josh Urquhart 30-yard free-kick bounced in front of the home keeper and hit a post. Sudbury went close to nicking it at the end, but Sam Clarke blazed over.

"Last night they responded in the right way. The work rate was first class and one of the bigger things was the shape of the team as a whole," said Chapman.

HARLOW TOWN: Knowles, Barnard, Eadie, Urquhart, Blewitt, Glowacki, Dadson (Stamp 83), Muguo, Reid, Antoine (Laird 76), J. Smith.

Osagie's boom time: World Indoor bronze

ANDREW Osagie can set his sights on a medal at the Commonwealth Games in Scotland – after securing back-to-back bronze medals in the 800m at the IAAF World Indoor Championships in Sopot, Poland.

The Harlow runner – who took bronze in the previous World Indoor Championships in Turkey in 2012 – was promoted from fourth to third ahead of Poland's Marcin Lewandowski, who was disqualified for stepping into the infield.

The Harlow Athletic Club member and former Burnt Mill School student thought he had missed out on third place after being unable to overtake Lewandowski in the race to the finish line.

Osagie (26), who will now focus on the outdoor season with the prestigious Diamond League starting on June 5, was at the back of the strong field for most of the race, and made a superb late surge to finish in 1 minute 47.10, but was denied on the line by Lewandowski, who clocked 1:47.09 much to the delight of the home fans.

But speaking immediately after the race eagle-eyed Osagie thought he had seen Lewandowski step off the track.

"I did notice one Polish athlete put his foot on the inside track. I got done at the trials for doing exactly the same thing," he said.

The GB team immediately lodged a protest and following a review the Harlow athlete was proved spot on and awarded the bronze.

Favourite Mohammed Aman took gold in 1:46.76, with Poland's Adam Kszczot taking silver in 1:46.76.

Osagie said: "There was a lot of battling for the front in the first lap and I tried to stay out of it and pick my time to move and unfortunately got stuck.

"I was in fifth place with less than 100m to go and I saw him step off the track and athlete's instinct was that's not allowed.

"Tactically I didn't run that well in the final and apart from the medal, I haven't got a lot of positives to take away from the final.

"It's very bittersweet because I get on with Marcin [Lewandowski] very well on and off the track so it's going to be a bit awkward from now."

"I'm very happy to add to the medal tally for GB & NI though."

He also tweeted: "Bad race, very sorry for Marcin. Now definitely in the top 3 most hated men in Poland..."

UK Athletics performance director Neil Black said of the review into Osagie's race: "It's a simple process – you look at TV and video footage and then think about whether to lodge an appeal. The rules are the rules and that's all we did."

Osagie was initially not too disappointed at missing out on a medal. "I try and take something away from every championships I go to," he said.

"Today wasn't one of my best runs, but it wasn't disastrous. I take heart from getting into another final. I keep doing it consistently so hopefully I can focus on winning medals."

Osagie looked in great shape as he qualified one of three fastest losers, clocking 1:45.88 to finish second in his heat behind home favourite Kszczot.

Sunday's keenly anticipated final featured a star-studded field, including defending champion Aman and 2011 silver medallist Lewandowski.

Speaking after the qualifiers Osagie said: "Tough is the first word I can think of. I knew it was going to be a decent pace or it needed to be and I had prepared for that."

"I felt quite strong at the end and quite good. I knew I was in the time with about 100m to go and I knew if I finished strong I would be within the time."
